ICR events in

As an owner representative, the ICR has provided introductions to outstanding companies with diverse backgrounds that may not normally be considered under traditional business outreach paths. ICR is a great forum for owner reps, general contractors, and all types of subcontractors to interact and discuss the challenges and opportunities the industry faces from both perspectives. The ICR has been a great value add for our company and is continuously supported at all levels year after year.”
